NENAGH CHILDREN'S FILM FESTIVAL

eeeeeeee

LOVE

What a year it's been, I can't believe we are at this stage after months of open calls, outreach projects and wonderful submissions.

Our original plan last year was to have an in-person festival in Nenagh Arts Centre to celebrate the amazing work created for young people. Never did we think by putting it online we would be reaching a wider community across Ireland.

This year, with the support of our funders we are even bigger, we will do more outreach and hopefully support young people and their families to engage with the arts.

Our first thank you has to go to those who have financially supported the festival allowing us to create a free event for you to enjoy. A massive thanks to Creative Ireland for choosing us to be part of Cruinniú na nÓg. Also to the Arts Council of Ireland and Tipperary County Council for seeing the benefit Nenagh Arts Centre and our Film Festival has on our community.

Thank you to all the filmmakers for answering our open call, whether you are a long time maker, a student, a school or the next generation in animation, your work allows us to screen quality and engaging films.

Biggest thanks

Massive thanks to our incredible artists who have created a range of fabulous workshops, wonderful insights and behind the scenes interviews, giving us a glimpse into a world we don't often get the opportunity to experience.

To our 3 young interviewers, Lyra, James, Neil and to Aisling Moloney thank you for your professionalism, you really make us look good.

To Gráinne Fordham, our outreach artist, thank you for the dedicated creativity in producing the fabulous series of Wolfwalkers animation workshops on the run up to the festival.

Thanks to the patience of all our staff in Nenagh Arts Centre who have gone beyond the call of duty to make sure every aspect of the festival is looked after, Catherine, Michelle, Mary, Arthur, David & Neil, please take a bow.

Finally, thank you to our audience, we truly hope you enjoy this years Nenagh Children's Film Festival #NCFE
